What is this product?

Type:

The Fund is domiciled in Ireland and is an open-ended investment company and qualifies as an undertaking for collective investment in transferable securities ("UCITS").

Term:

The Fund does not have a fixed term of existence or maturity period but in certain circumstances, as described in the Prospectus, the Fund may be unilaterally terminated following written notice to investors subject to compliance with the Prospectus and applicable regulation. Subject to the liquidation, dissolution and termination rights of the Board of the Company as set forth in the Prospectus, the Fund cannot be automatically terminated.

Objectives:

The Fund's primary investment objective is longer term income growth while also seeking to preserve and increase its capital value through diversified investment in a portfolio of Japanese equities and related instruments which generate a yield above the market average.

The Fund is actively managed and seeks to achieve its investment objective by investing in the equity securities of companies listed, or regularly traded on, a Japanese stock exchange. The Fund may also retain amounts in cash pending reinvestment.

The Fund is considered to be actively managed in reference to TOPIX Net Total Return Index (the "Benchmark") by virtue of the fact that it uses the Benchmark for performance comparison purposes. Certain of the Fund's securities may be components of and may have similar weightings to the Benchmark. However the Benchmark is not used to define the portfolio composition of the Fund or as a performance target and the Fund may be wholly invested in securities which are not constituents of the Benchmark.

The Investment Manager has discretion over the assets held within the Fund. Investments are selected purely on the basis of whether they meet the Investment Manger's criteria of identifying strong but undervalued Japanese equity securities with no reference to specific sectors or indices.

The Fund uses currency forward contracts to hedge the exposure of the base currency of the share class against the Yen denominated assets.

You can buy and sell shares in the Fund on each business day.

Income from the Fund will be added to the value of your investment.

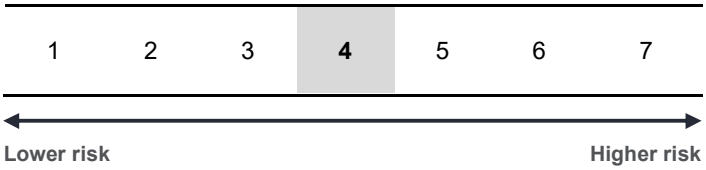

The depositary of the Fund is The Bank of New York Mellon SA/NV, Dublin Branch. ("the Depositary").

Intended retail investor:

The Fund may be suitable for those investors wanting to achieve longer term income growth with a measure of capital enhancement from a diversified portfolio of Japanese equities and related instruments where exposure to exchange rate movements has been minimised through currency hedging with an initial subscription of GBP 5,000.

What are the risks and what could I get in return?

Risk Indicator

The risk indicator assumes you keep the product for 5 years.

The actual risk can vary significantly if you cash in at an early stage and you may get back less.

The summary risk indicator is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of movements in the markets or because we are not able to pay you.

We have classified this product as 4 out of 7, which is a medium risk class. This rates the potential losses from future performance at a medium level, and poor market conditions could impact the ability for you to receive a positive return on your investment.

Be aware of currency risk. You will receive payments in a different currency, so the final return you will get depends on the exchange rate between the two currencies. This risk is not considered in the indicator shown above.

Other key material risks not captured by the risk indicator that could potentially impact the Fund are disclosed in the Prospectus.

This product does not include any protection from future market performance so you could lose some or all of your investment.

Performance scenarios

The figures shown include all the costs of the product itself, but do not take into account your personal tax situation and may not include all the costs that you pay to your advisor or distributor, which may also affect how much you get back.

The unfavourable, moderate, and favourable scenarios shown are illustrations of what you might get back using the worst, average, and best performance of the product / a suitable benchmark over the last 10 years. Markets could develop very differently in the future.

What happens if the Manager is unable to pay out?

The Manager is responsible for administration and management of the Company and does not typically hold assets of the Fund (assets that can be held by Depositary are, in line with applicable regulations, held with a Depositary in its custody network). The Manager and the Investment Manager have no obligation to pay out since the Fund's design does not contemplate any such payment being made. However, investors may suffer loss if the Company or the Depositary is unable to pay out. There is no public or private investor compensation scheme that can compensate for any losses due to the insolvency of the Company, the Manager and the Investment Manager.
