Objectives and Investment Policy

The Fund aims to achieve long-term growth on your investment.

The Fund may invest up to 100% of its assets, directly or indirectly through investment in other funds, in shares of companies worldwide, bonds issued by governments or companies worldwide, structured products and in commodities through investment in other funds.

The Fund may use instruments whose value is determined by changes in the value of the underlying assets they represent (derivatives). The Fund may do so for investment purposes or in order to manage the Fund more efficiently (e.g., reducing risks or costs or generating additional growth or income).

The Fund may invest up to 30% of its assets in other funds. The Fund may not invest more than 20% of its Net Asset Value in any one collective investment scheme.

The Fund may invest no more than 30% of its assets in emerging market countries.

The Fund may invest between 60% and 90% of its assets in shares of companies worldwide, including ordinary shares and preferred shares. A preferred share typically pays dividends at a specified rate and has preference over ordinary shares in dividends and the liquidation of assets.

The Fund may invest up to 30% of its assets in structured products. These are securities in which the issuer undertakes to provide a return to investors based on the performance of a reference asset such as an equity, bond, derivative, index or fund.

The Fund may invest up to 40% of its assets in bonds issued by governments or companies worldwide and in bonds convertible into shares, each of which will be rated either investment grade or below investment grade. A rating agency gives an investment grade rating when it believes that there is a relatively low risk that the issuer of a bond will be unable to make payments. The Fund may invest up to 20% of its assets in bonds that are rated below investment grade.

At times, the Fund may hold cash and cash-like instruments.

The combination of assets selected are those which seek to produce positive real returns.

For more information about the investment policy, see "Investment Objectives and Policies of the Funds" in the Fund's prospectus available at www.waverton.co.uk.

You may sell your shares on any working day (generally, a day on which banks in Dublin and London are open).

The Fund declares dividends quarterly (generally, on 31 January, 30 April, 31 July and 31 October each year). Unless you request cash payment, your dividends will be paid in the form of additional shares in the Fund.

The Fund is actively managed and uses the UK Consumer Price Index +4.0% (in GBP) (the "Benchmark") and IA Mixed Investment 40-85% Shares (the "Benchmark") for performance comparison purposes only. The fund does not seek to track its benchmark and so has discretion as to the investments it may make. There can be no guarantee that the Fund will match or exceed the performance of the Benchmark.

Recommendation: the Fund may not be appropriate for investors who plan to withdraw their money within 5 years.

Risk and Reward Profile

Lower risk ⟷ Higher risk

Typically lower rewards — Typically higher rewards

1	2	3	4	5	6	7

The risk category is based on historical data and may not be a reliable indicator of the future risk profile of the Fund. The risk category shown is not guaranteed and may change over time.

The numerical scale is complex. For example, 2 is not twice as risky as 1. The gap between 1 and 2 might not be the same as the gap between 5 and 6. A category 1 fund is not a risk-free investment the risk of losing your money may be small, but the chance of making gains is also limited.

The Fund is in its risk category as shown above as it typically produces higher rewards than other funds (such as money market funds) and is higher risk as a result of investing in alternative asset classes.

Risks materially relevant to the Fund which may not be adequately captured by the indicator :

- Investment risk: the Fund may not achieve its investment objective and the value of shares in the Fund may fall.
- Credit and settlement risk: the issuers of bonds or other instruments that the Fund buys, or other parties with whom the Fund trades, may not be able to make payments or deliver instruments to the Fund. As a result, this could lead to a loss.
- Interest rate risk: interest rate movements affect the value of bonds. The price of a bond generally falls when interest rates rise. Bonds with a final payment date further into the future are more sensitive to changes in interest rates.
- Underlying fund risk: where the Fund invests in other funds, an extra layer of costs will arise at the level of the underlying funds. Certain underlying funds may not be UCITS. They may have different characteristics and may not be subject to the same level of regulation. The Fund may find it difficult to sell its units in the underlying funds. This could, in turn, affect your ability to sell your shares.
- Currency risk: the Fund invests in assets which are priced in overseas currencies other than the Fund's base currency (British Pounds). Changes in exchange rates may lead to fluctuations in the value of your investment. The Fund may use techniques to try to limit currency exchange risk.
- Derivatives risk: the value of a derivative depends primarily on the performance of the underlying asset. A small movement in the value of the underlying asset may cause a large movement in the value of the derivative. The Fund is exposed to the risk that the other party of the derivative will not meet its obligations.
- Emerging market risk: investment of part of the Fund's assets in emerging markets will be subject to greater risk due to possible political, economic, corporate governance, legal, market, accounting and other risks. Assets may not be properly held in custody and, as a result, may be lost. It may be more difficult to sell assets at a fair price in emerging markets.

See also the description of risks applicable to the Fund in "Risk Factors" in the Fund's prospectus.
